

JOURNAL

of the ILLINOIS STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Volume LXXV / Number 1 / SPRING 1982

Contents

- 2 The Ethnic Entry into Chicago Politics: The United Societies for Local Self-Government and the Reform Charter of 1907
Maureen A. Flanagan
- 15 Queries Regarding the Western Rivers: An Unpublished Letter from Thomas Jefferson to the Geographer of the United States
John Hoffmann
- 29 "Union Holiday—Closed Till Futher Notice": The 1936 General Strike at Pekin, Illinois
Lester H. Brune
- 39 Louis Rodenberg: Pioneer in Braille Printing
Donald Hickey and Lyle Seymour
- 47 William Butler Ogden and the Growth of Chicago
William L. Downard
- 61 The Rudowitz Extradition Case
Frederick C. Giffin
- 73 Lincolniana
A Small Receipt Reveals a Large Story
James T. Hickey
- 80 Picture Credits

Cover: The "Workingmen's Exchange," Chicago Alderman Michael "Hinky Dink" Kenna's saloon on Clark Street. In 1907 ethnic groups formed the United Societies for Local Self-Government and worked for the defeat of a proposed city charter that would have restricted the sale of liquor in Chicago.